HON. EVERITT JENNINGS

Of Madisonville, Announces His Candidacy for Commonwealth Attorney of this Judicial District--Says the Madisonville Hustler

IS NO DOUBT ONE OF THE ABLEST MEN IN THE DISTRICT.

In as much as it has been generally understood over this judicial district that Hon. Everett Jennings of this city will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's attorney, a reporter of the Hustler interviewed Mr. Jennings and he announces positively that he will be a candidate and his formal announcement will appear later.

Mr. Jennings is known over this district better, perhaps, than any other lawyer of his age, and has always rendered valiant service to the cause of Democracy in every campaign. He is an able lawyer, a brilliant speaker and an affable gentleman and if nominated and elected to this important trust the commonwealth will be ably and fearlessly represented. Notwithstanding his able and constant service to his party he has never before asked for any office of political preferment. Mr. Jennings is no doubt one of the strongest men in the district and the Hustler predicts his nomination and election.—Madisonville Hustler

We note the above clipping from the Madisonville Hustler in regard to the announcement of Hon. Everett Jennings, of that city for Commonwealth's Attorney of this Judicial District.

Mr. Jennings is one of the for-

TAFT A Unitarian.

As I shall not have time to answer the many communications coming to me with regards to my recent editorial protesting against the election of a man to the presidency of these United States, who denies the Deity of Jesus Christ, I will answer them, one and all, at this time, through the columns of THE HERALD. Among these communications, coming from every quarter, there has been only one of adverse criticism. This one calls attention to the fact that Mr. Taft is a Unitarian. Jesus Christ was all he claimed to be, or he was an impostor. He claimed to be one and equal with the Father. He said, "He that hath seen me hath seen the father." This, the Unitarians deny. Of course they have many ways of wriggling in and out, explaining and hairsplitting, but they are a curse and blight to any community in which they exist in sufficient numbers to give them influence. The Christian church does not, cannot recognize them or fellowship them as Christians, I believe it would be a great national sin, and bring on a great national calamity to elect a man our chief magistrate, who has the views with regard to Christ that a Unitarians must have.

To the large number of friends who have sent me words of approval and congratulation, I return my thanks. But for the candidate's Unitarianism, I should never have said word. It startles and saddens me to think of the great, greedy, godless corporations and conscienceless money kings uniting their tremendous influence to put this man upon the throne of power. Nearly two thousands years ago this poor, mad, blind world reached the height of sin when it cried in mad frenzy, release unto us Barabbas and crucify Christ. Mad men had tested cases in which he has been employed as an attorney.

Readers of the Press of this county will no doubt remember his visit to Marion during the last State campaign at which time he made a speech on behalf of the Democratic candidates, which was considered by those who heard it one of the fairest, most logical, and best speeches delivered in this county during the campaign. If Mr. Jennings should be elected as Commonwealth Attorney of this district, we believe the interests of the Commonwealth will be ably represented, and the voters of the district will have no cause to regret their choice.

We do not know whether Mr. Grayot will again be a candidate but if he should be, we trust our readers will not construe this as any reflection upon him or his candidacy. His long and able service is sufficient evidence of the well merited confidence the voters of this district have in him. And if he should be a candidate for the nomination again, this District will be exceptionally fortunate in the material it has from which to select its Commonwealth Attorney.

most young lawyers of Hopkins Co., bar, and has demonstrated his ability as a lawyer in the many hotly contested cases in which he has been employed as an attorney.

Not long ago, the Senate of the U. S. ignored Christ's teaching that "No man cometh to the Father but by me," and elected a Unitarian chaplain to pray for them to mock God.

But no one seemed to care. It looks as if this country has become to stupid to be aroused to a state of righteousness indignation. Directly afterward, one man just out of the Senate was shot to death by the woman he had debauched and deserted, another was sent to prison for dishonesty, another died in time to keep out of prison, another was in a divorce court and mixed up in a most disgusting scandal. This same Senate failed to break the power of the tobacco trust, and stands back of the whiskey power shipping its intoxicants into prohibition states and zones, and thus the government legalizes and protects crime.

It is high time for ministers of the gospel to cry aloud for Christian men to think, for patriots to arouse themselves. If we continue to sow the wind, as sure as God is true and His word is true, we will reap the whirlwind. We are approaching a crisis in our history, of such vital importance, that it seems to me that silence would be criminal, and I have spoken with malice toward none and love for all.

James Monroe Gilbert Dead.

Last Thursday night at 11 p. m., Mr. James M. Gilbert died at his home north of the city of the infirmities of old age in his 79th year. He was the last, save one, of a large family. He was twice married, his first wife being a Miss Lynn, and his second a Miss Worley. Mr. Gilbert was born within two miles of where he died and lived four score years in our community. He was the father of the first Mrs. P. A. Howerton who died several years ago and of the following children all of whom survive him, Roe M. James, Mrs. Jesse Fritts, Mrs. M. T. Worley, Mrs. H. L. Holloman, Mrs. Calvin Johnson. The interment was at Pilot Knob Friday afternoon.

THE KNOCKER AND THE KICKER.

The fellow who kicks the hardest generally speaking about the county paper is usually the one who owes for it and whose paper has been discontinued by the editor for nonpayment on dues. It is quite amusing then, to the editors friends and he has a few thank goodness, to hear the big dead beats stand around and knock on the paper because it's "got them down so fine." Some men have money to spend for whiskey, tobacco and beer and an empty bottle can be found most anywhere around where they loaf (they don't usually have much business,) but let a collector call with a bill for some necessary of life and then they are ready to give him the dodge.

Sun Bros. Shows Are

Greater Than Ever

Well the show has come and gone. Tuesday, we were entertained by one of the best and most satisfying of all the tent shows that visits Marion. While the Sun Brothers shows do not blow their bugle much on the streets and "Bally-hoo" with a lot of tinsel and unnecessary trappings, they certainly "make good" under their tents with a performance that is worth the price of admission charged.

The show has appeared in Marion upon several former occasions and has always pleased our people. But on this their fourth trip here, they gave even better satisfaction.

The acts and features were all new and of a highly meritorious character. The display of wild animals was also interesting and worth seeing. The old time policy of this show is not allowing any gamblers and people with fake issues to travel with the show was again in evidence.

This met with the hearty approval of our people. The result was that everybody gave Sun Bros and their aggregation "the glad hand". During the day not a single arrest was made and the local officers say that it was the quietest and best behaved crowd that ever assembled in Marion.

After night performance was concluded, the show quietly pulled stakes and left over the I C road for Princeton, where they showed on Wednesday.

Accidentally Killed His Own Sister.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Aug. 15.—Walter Mayton, nine years old, today instantly killed his sister, Belle, age seven, with a shotgun. They are children of a prominent farmer. Their parents were away from home when a neighbor returned a shotgun he had borrowed. The children were playing with the weapon and it was accidentally discharged, blowing off the top of the girl's head. Mrs. Mayton swooned on seeing the body and has not recovered consciousness.

House Erected without a Word.

Bloomburg, Pa., Aug. 13.—Like Solomon's temple, the residence of Samuel Andrews, of this place, was built in silence. Andrew is a deaf-mute every stroke of the work on the house, from laying the foundation to installing the plumbing was done by mutes, friends of Andrews, who live elsewhere in the State.

In Memory of Addie Minner.

On the seventh of August the death angel visited the home of Mrs. Hannah Minner and claimed for its victim her daughter, Addie Carty, aged seven years.

She was sick for about two weeks suffering of whooping cough, pneumonia and finally brain fever.

Addie was a sweet little girl and it was with sorrowing hearts that she was laid to rest in the Hurricane cemetery Sunday evening Aug. 9th, Rev. Johnson conducting the funeral services.

It was hard to part with Addie, but God who doeth all things well knows best, so he called the dear little bud that was so fair, to blossom in the mansion he has prepared.

Suit For Insurance on Tobacco Which Was Burned.—Policies Call for $4,000.

A. H. Cardin, a tobacco grower of View, Crittenden county, to-day brought two suits against the Globe and Rutgers Fire Insurance Company of New York, to enforce the collection of policies aggregating $4,000 on his tobacco, two-story warehouse and rehandling machinery. The company refuses to pay on the ground that the fire was caused by the incendiarism of night riders.

It is the purpose of the company to plead the riot clause, which is contained in all standard fire insurance policies. The point will be made that a condition of riot existed which resulted in the night riders firing into the buildings in question.

One suit is for $2,000 on tobacco insured and said to be worth $3,040, while the other is for $500 on fixtures and $1,500 on the plaintiff's warehouse. The policies dated from December 11, 1908, and were good for one year. On February 8, 1908, The plaintiff, according to one of his counsel, T. W. Sindle, is a member of the Society of Equity. He denies any knowledge of night riders ever firing his warehouse or of how it caught fire. The policy it is contended is enforceable under the usual provisions.—Louisville Times.

TEACHERS HAVE FIRST CALL

No Money to Pay Other Warrants Between Now and October First--Says State Treasurer, of Kentucky.

NOW HAVE BALANCE OF BUT $182,000 ON HAND.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 10.—State Treasurer Farley gave out the following interview today in reference to the State finances: "I find that in order to pay the school teachers the first installment which is due them October first, we will be unable from now on up to that date to pay but very few of the warrants which may be issued. There will be due the schools on October first about $440,000. We now have a balance of but $182,000 on hand. The total collections for August and September last year were a little over $672,000 while the expenses for the same months were something over $621,000 is almost an offset as will be seen.

"You can see at once that if we pay the schools, we can pay but few of the other claims until after the Sheriff sends in taxes collected which will not be earlier than November. The schools are entitled to their money because we have been borrowing largely from the school fund to meet general expenses. If we had done this there would be plenty in the school fund to meet this payment. The total expenses for running the State in its different branches has been more each year for the last number of years than the income of the taxes and all other sources, and why our Legislature knowing this failed to provide means to meet all demands and was so lavish in making appropriations is something I do not understand.

A Sad Affliction.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Summerville, of Mattoon, were all grieved very much, when they heard of the accidental fall which crippled their beautiful little ten year old girl, Mildred. It seems that by slipping on the floor she dislocated her hip joint and was unable to walk. They had hopes of her getting better, and did every thing local medical skill could suggest but all to no avail. Mrs. Summerville, as a last resort, took her to the osteopathic institute at Franklin, Ky., and we are glad to report that she is gradually improving.

In Society.

The Marion people always do the right thing at the right time. Society here is ever trying to do the gracious act to some one of its favorites, something in recognition of merit, or especial accomplishments, or social qualities. On account of Mrs. Sayre's announced intention of removing to the "Crescent City", in the near future her friend and neighbor, Mrs. S. Gugenheim issued invitations to a "Military Euchre" last Friday afternoon to be given at her beautiful home, corner Main and Depot Sts. The house was decorated in the colors of the Republic, the national flags being everywhere in evidence and beautiful red and white flowers were in profusion. Thirteen games were played Mrs. Digne Eldred of Princeton, (who was a guest at Crittenden Spring) won the visitors prize, Mrs. Sayre the guest of honor won second prize, Miss Wilborn the third prize. The refreshments were elegant, the national colors predominating in the cake and brick ice each of which was served in three colors red, white and blue. punch was served to each guest on arrival.

TO THE FARMERS STATE UNION OF KENTUCKY.

(BY STATE ORGANIZER, R. L. BARRETT.)

Paducah, Ky., Aug. 6.—Brethren:—Permit me to congratulate you upon the magnificent growth and the splendid success of our Order during the two years of our existence in the State of Kentucky. We have only to point to the present industrial conditions as a reason for our organization being called into the industrial life of our country.

And with reference to what we have already accomplished, is sufficient justification of our continued existence. We recall with pride the achievement of our National Order during the five years of its existence, and extend to our National President, and all of our National officers and brethren fraternal greetings, pledging our support and best efforts in the work so nobly begun in the grand State of Kentucky. To you who are assembled here, the delegates and representatives, as well as the pioneers of our noble Order, I wish to say that I regret the fact that I cannot say, as others have said, that a pleasant duty awaits the officials and standard bearers of our Order in Kentucky, but to the contrary, that a most unpleasant duty mingled with hardships and persecutions of the most malicious type only awaits those whom you may select as your standard bearers for the next twelve months. In view of this lamentable condition, I beg of you to be soberminded in the selection of your officials. The selection of all officers should not be a matter of neighbor or friend, but one of honesty and ability, and if it should ever be yours to enjoy the highest ideals of citizenship, as the creator of all good has intended that you should, then the most loyal and most patriotic and unswerving men would be chosen to fill the various positions of trust. It is evident that many who pose as friends to the people are their most deadly enemies. It is plain for a short time an open enemy will have to be met, but time will soon reveal the fact that our worst enemy lurks in secret conclave and will pose as our friend and ever conceivable means will be brought to bear upon your officials to misguide and dethrone them in their efforts to carry our Order to success.

The utter absence of political discussion in our Order is one of the hopeful signs of unquestionable success, and I would warn our people to forever abstain from party politics and co-operative stores as the most dangerous venture that could be made by our Order. Our experience of more than thirty years along these lines has taught those capable of a clear business understanding the folly of such indulgences.

The committee on Resolutions will be called upon to express our views upon economic questions, which enter into our industrial life. Nowhere is there discord in our ranks. Every where the utmost enthusiasm and determination abounds.

The producer can never hope, except by Organization and Co-operation, to withstand the constant encroachments of predatory wealth. The master of commerce with one hand lowering the prices of raw material and with the other elevating the prices of the finished product, which we all must have, must be made to pause.

We must continue to be right, we must ever be fair, we must be honest with ourselves and our neighbors, and if we do this, and are determined and courageous in our defense of the principles of our Order, success in the fullest measure will be ours.

In the matter of a constitution, I bespeak on the behalf of your constitutional committee, a most careful consideration. I have been the object of your committee on constitution to make it free from ambiguous terms and let its provision be such that every thoughtful and loyal member can conscientiously endorse and vigorously defend them.

In surrendering to you my official right as State Organizer of your state, I feel that I could not do so without acknowledging the patriotism and unswerving loyalty of the noble men and women of the grand old State of Kentucky who have stood so nobly by me in effort to promote our noble cause, which has been so successfully accomplished. With more than eight thousand members now in your state and more than two million in the nation, Kentucky constituting the Fifteenth Organized State Union, and a national growth of six thousand members per day, there can be no possibility of failure with a constant and increasing campaign of education going on in our Order.

And as I give the control of the affairs of our Order into your hands, I do not only do so by constitutional right, but because it is right. And whether I shall live in your state or return to my home and friends in Texas, I shall never forget the loyalty and personal aid of my many friends who have stood so nobly by me in the promotion of our great Order.

I now submit the business of our Order into your hands with an abiding confidence that you will ever hold aloft the flag of our cause with words emblazoned upon her banner, EQUITY, JUSTICE and the GOLDEN RULE.

AMENDMENT TO THE BY LAWS OF THE STEMMING DISTRICT TOBACCO ASSOCIATION.

That section One of Article One of the by-laws of the Stemming District Tobacco Association be amended so that said Section One shall read as

Sec. 1. That the representative from each magisterial district in the several counties composing the Association elected in 1909 shall be elected as follows: Those from one county shall be elected for one year, those from another county for two years, those from another county three years, those from another county for four years, and those from the other county for five years, to be determined by lot by the District Board at its meeting to be held in September, 1908. After the expiration of the respective terms of office of said magisterial representatives, or County Board, so elected in 1909, the terms of office of those from each county shall be for a period of five (5) years. The duly elected representatives from each magisterial district shall meet in the county seat of their respective counties on the first Saturday in August succeeding their election, and shall organize as a County Board. They shall elect from their number a chairman, who shall be a member of the District Board from their county, and the term of office of such chairman and as a member of the District Board shall be for the full term for which he may have been elected. They shall also elect a secretary, but he need not be a member of the Board. Any member of the District Board may be removed from office for cause upon charges being preferred against him by any member of the association, the trial upon the charges preferred take place before a joint meeting of the County Board to be held for that purpose at the office of the Association at Henderson, Ky. A majority of the members of the County Boards shall constitute a quorum, and a majority of those present may act upon such charges, and their action shall be final. Removal as members of the District Board shall operate as a removal from the County Board.

Lodges Visited by Rowdy Soldiers.

Another Account.

Princeton, Ky., Aug. 12.—It is reported here that soldiers raided the Masonic Hall at Wallonia, in Trigg county, last night. The W. O. W. lodge, of Wallonia, being in session, the soldiers thought a night rider raid was being planned, and raided the building. It is said that the lodge regalia and badges were carried away.

Robert Parsley, of this city, received a letter to-day giving an account of the raid and the carrying away of that section, especially the W. O. W. members, are very much wrought up over the conduct of the soldiers, and the matter will be looked into by the lodge and Trigg county authorities. The general opinion here is that the soldiers were ignorant of the use of regalia in lodge rooms, and thought they were taking charge of night-rider paraphernalia.

Officers Ignores Troops Sent To Guard Negro Murderer.

A serious clash between Sheriff Tom Rhea, of Logan county, and State soldiers stationed at Russellville took place Tuesday when Sheriff Rhea reached Russellville with the negro, Rufus Browder. The Sheriff resented the effort of militiamen to surround the prisoner, and when two soldiers climbed on the seat of the carriage, threw them to the ground and the wheels of the vehicle passed over one of the men. After the negro had been placed in jail a conference was held by the Sheriff with Capt. Dan Carroll and R. J. McBride, Jr., at which peace between the civil and military authorities was established.—Cadiz Record.

THE REAL JESUS
By REV. A. C. DIXON, D. D.,
Pastor of the Chicago Ave. (Moody's) Church, Chicago.

Gilbert West and Lord Littleton agreed to seek the overthrow of Christianity by proving that the resurrection of Jesus and the conversion of Paul were myths. After careful research West was convinced that the proof in favor of the resurrection of Christ was so overwhelming that he could not reject it without doing violence to his reason, and Littleton was equally convinced that the evidence in favor of the conversion of Paul was so abundant and clear that he could not be loyal to the demands of a healthy reason and reject it. When the two friends met to compare notes they were ready to worship him whose religion they had sought to discredit. Their arguments, published in a book I have read, are unanswerable, proving that a true rationalism which patiently investigates and draws fair conclusions from established premises cannot fail to convince the earnest seeker after truth that Jesus was all that the New Testament writers claim for him.

A Strange Mixture.
The assertion of a Chicago rabbi that the Apostle Paul produced the Christ of Christianity is certainly complimentary to Paul until he informs us that Paul was a poor, honest epileptic, whose conversion was a hallucination he had during one of his epileptic fits. That bewilders us and suggests that unbelief can believe some very absurd things. If epilepsy can make a man like Paul, who in turn produces such a character as Christ, it behooves civilization to establish institutions for generating and cultivating epilepsy for the benefit of coming generations.

It was Christ who made Paul, and without Christ Paul had never been heard of as a Christian preacher or writer. Indeed, the only rational explanation of Paul is the fact that the risen, living Jesus met him on the Damascus road and transformed the fiery persecutor into an ardent missionary. However, it is to the credit of the rabbi that he frankly admits the historicity of Jesus and the honesty of the apostles. This shows that he has gray matter in his brain.

The Only Explanation.
Christianity is a religion of facts, which, interpreted by sound reason, prove that Jesus was not a product of the age in which he lived, but God incarnate. No other explanation satisfactorily explains him. Every other explanation is simply an attempt to explain him away.

Jesus claimed that he was the "Son of Man" and that thought was not born of the age in which he lived. He was not Jew enough for the Jew nor Roman enough for the Roman nor Greek enough for the Greek.

Jesus claimed that he was the "Son of God." As the Son of man he was truly man; and as Son of God he was truly God. He said, "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father" (John 14:9). Many men before and after Jesus have tried to demonstrate the existence of God. He made no such attempt. His mission was to manifest God in his own person.

A Unique Claim.
Jesus claimed that he was himself the antidote for all evil. Men have presented their schemes for remedying earth's ills, but Jesus stands alone in presenting not a system, but his own personality as capable of supplying the need of the soul. He said, "I am the bread of life," "I am the way," "I am the truth," "I am the life," "I am the light of the world." "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." A Unique Mission.

The mission of Jesus was to establish a kingdom not of this world (John 18:36). Such a thought was not of this world. The Jews were looking for a temporal king to deliver them from Roman rule. If Jesus had taken hold of their idea and used it for his own advancement he would have acted like a man and his success could have been explained like the success of Napoleon and Washington. On the contrary, he opposed the leaders of public opinion and began the establishment of a kingdom which lives to-day after the kingdoms of Greece, Rome and Egypt have ceased to exist. A young man, a poor mechanic, from a mountain village, with no rich, powerful allies, does this in three years! And he does it by the deliberate sacrifice of himself. Men have died martyrs to their mission. But man has never yet planned martyrdom as a part of his mission. Jesus told his disciples that he would go to Jerusalem and be crucified and on the third day rise again (Matt. 16:21). He provides for a memorial of his death. Men do not build monuments to their defeats. The French have no monuments to call Waterloo to mind. But Jesus would have his followers to remember not the Mount of Transfiguration, but Calvary; not his glory, but his shame. Indeed, he makes his shame the test of discipleship.

The best in the world.

THE REAL JESUS
By REV. A. C. DIXON, D. D.,
Pastor of the Chicago Ave. (Moody's) Church, Chicago.

he could not reject it without doing violence to his reason, and Littleton was equally convinced that the evidence in favor of the conversion of Paul was so abundant and clear that he could not be loyal to the demands of a healthy reason and reject it. When the two friends met to compare notes they were ready to worship him whose religion they had sought to discredit. Their arguments, published in a book I have read, are unanswerable, proving that a true rationalism which patiently investigates and draws fair conclusions from established premises cannot fail to convince the earnest seeker after truth that Jesus was all that the New Testament writers claim for him.

A Strange Mixture.
The assertion of a Chicago rabbi that the Apostle Paul produced the Christ of Christianity is certainly complimentary to Paul until he informs us that Paul was a poor, honest epileptic, whose conversion was a hallucination he had during one of his epileptic fits. That bewilders us and suggests that unbelief can believe some very absurd things. If epilepsy can make a man like Paul, who in turn produces such a character as Christ, it behooves civilization to establish institutions for generating and cultivating epilepsy for the benefit of coming generations.

It was Christ who made Paul, and without Christ Paul had never been heard of as a Christian preacher or writer. Indeed, the only rational explanation of Paul is the fact that the risen, living Jesus met him on the Damascus road and transformed the fiery persecutor into an ardent missionary. However, it is to the credit of the rabbi that he frankly admits the historicity of Jesus and the honesty of the apostles. This shows that he has gray matter in his brain.

The Only Explanation.
Christianity is a religion of facts, which, interpreted by sound reason, prove that Jesus was not a product of the age in which he lived, but God incarnate. No other explanation satisfactorily explains him. Every other explanation is simply an attempt to explain him away.

Jesus claimed that he was the "Son of Man" and that thought was not born of the age in which he lived. He was not Jew enough for the Jew nor Roman enough for the Roman nor Greek enough for the Greek.

Jesus claimed that he was the "Son of God." As the Son of man he was truly man; and as Son of God he was truly God. He said, "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father" (John 14:9). Many men before and after Jesus have tried to demonstrate the existence of God. He made no such attempt. His mission was to manifest God in his own person.

A Unique Claim.
Jesus claimed that he was himself the antidote for all evil. Men have presented their schemes for remedying earth's ills, but Jesus stands alone in presenting not a system, but his own personality as capable of supplying the need of the soul. He said, "I am the bread of life," "I am the way," "I am the truth," "I am the life," "I am the light of the world." "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." A Unique Mission.

The mission of Jesus was to establish a kingdom not of this world (John 18:36). Such a thought was not of this world. The Jews were looking for a temporal king to deliver them from Roman rule. If Jesus had taken hold of their idea and used it for his own advancement he would have acted like a man and his success could have been explained like the success of Napoleon and Washington. On the contrary, he opposed the leaders of public opinion and began the establishment of a kingdom which lives to-day after the kingdoms of Greece, Rome and Egypt have ceased to exist. A young man, a poor mechanic, from a mountain village, with no rich, powerful allies, does this in three years! And he does it by the deliberate sacrifice of himself. Men have died martyrs to their mission. But man has never yet planned martyrdom as a part of his mission. Jesus told his disciples that he would go to Jerusalem and be crucified and on the third day rise again (Matt. 16:21). He provides for a memorial of his death. Men do not build monuments to their defeats. The French have no monuments to call Waterloo to mind. But Jesus would have his followers to remember not the Mount of Transfiguration, but Calvary; not his glory, but his shame. Indeed, he makes his shame the test of discipleship.

Chicago Grain.

Chicago, Aug 18.—The wheat market was dull and prices steady. A strong market at Liverpool offset the excellent growing weather in this country. July opened 1-8 and 1-4 higher at 89 1-4 a 89 3-8, sold down to 89 and then advanced 89 1-4c.

Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 30 cars.

The high price for July was 91 1-4 and the close was strong with July up 1 3-4 at 90 7-8.

The corn market was strong chiefly because of light offerings. May opened at 76 to 77c which was a new high mark for the season. July opened unchanged to 1-8 higher at 65 3-4 to 65 7-8 and sold at 66 1-8 a 66 1-4. Local receipts were 880 cars.

The high price for May corn was 79c, and it closed at 78, 2c above the close of yesterday. Sentiment in the market was bullish all day. The high point for July was 66 7-8. The close was strong with July 1-8 higher at 66 7-8.

SPECULATIVE PROFITS

MUST STOP.

People who handle produce and who deal in the necessities of life are entitled to pay for their trouble, but the time has come when speculative profits must and will be cut out. To do this does not require an act of legislation. The use of a little common sense by the producing class will make it possible to do away entirely with gambling in any and all products of the farm.

When a manufacturer puts his products upon the market he says: "This is my price—no more, no less. Take it or leave it alone." When the farmer fixes a fair price for his produce he should be willing to accept that amount, and as soon as he accepts that idea of doing business, the speculation in farm produce will cease.

The idea of starting Equity Exchanges is alright, but before they can become a success we must make it possible for them to exist. The present speculative system will not allow of competition except upon a competitive basis. The Equity Exchanges are not run upon that plan. Let us illustrate: The Equity Exchange in Chicago receives ten cars of potatoes and sells the same at the highest price possible. It takes out a small commission and returns the balance of the money. The producer is pleased. He tells his neighbors and they ship to the Exchange. The same thing is repeated, and more people are pleased. The Exchange gets a nice bunch of customers who buy potatoes, and business begins to assume big proportions. The speculative traders begin to figure. They see their profits vanishing. They unite and put up a job. They send men into Wisconsin to offer more than the Exchange can pay. The growers think their Exchange is robbing them, and they sell to the speculator. The Exchange fails to supply its customers and they are forced to buy of speculators. The Exchange has only made a fair profit and has no money to make a long fight. It quits and the speculators then proceed to cut the price to producers in the middle to make up their losses.

The proper method is to set a good, fair price, hold for that and sell through your own Exchange whenever possible, and when not possible, put 1 per cent of gross proceeds into the Exchange to keep it running. Equity Farm Journal.

GOVERNOR WILSON AND NIGHT RIDERS

Unsolicited advice is rarely ever accepted in good grace, but we will try this one dose of it on governor Wilson and let the responsibility rest on other shoulders.

The writer of this is not the political adherent of Augustus E. Wilson, and tried his best to keep him from occupying the chair he is now holding, but since he was elected, there has not been a moment he would not have held up the governor's hands in a legitimate fight for the supremacy of the law and the glory of the Commonwealth.

The writer knows something of the seriousness of the situation that has confronted the governor during the entire term of his official life, and gives him credit for sincerity of motives in his dealing with what is known as the "night rider" troubles in western Kentucky. He has given the subject doubtless much thought and he has certainly spent much of the state's money in his endeavor to suppress the acknowledged lawlessness that exists in certain counties in western Kentucky. To what purpose the records will show. Apparently the spirit of lawlessness is just as rife as ever. No more plant beds are scraped because there are no more plant beds. But people are still being whipped and property destroyed, despite his efforts and the presence of the military. So far as the results are concerned, one man has been sent to the penitentiary for a year, and from what is generally said about him he deserved the penitentiary on general principles.

Even the horrible tragedy at Russellville only points out the futility of the plans adopted by the governor in dealing with the crimes. When a mob starts out to wreck its vengeance, it will not rush headlong into galling guns, but the use of the military will only prove a temporary expedient.

Ever since the tenth day of December, when Governor Willson was sworn into office, he has held the military in active service. He inherited a trouble at Hopkinsville, which has clung to him. He fell heir to a grumbling in Trigg, and the thunders still reverberate through the hills of the naturally splendid little county on the banks of the Cumberland river.

When Gov. Willson summoned all classes and conditions of men to go to Frankfort to talk over the tobacco situation, it was hoped that he would strike upon a plan that would bring the combatants together, but instead all went away with a hostile feeling and a snickersneer in plain view. The governor neither heard nor suggested any semblance of a plan that would bring about peace and happiness.

Now, we know those people down in Christian, Trigg, Caldwell and Calloway. As a class they are the best people under the shining canopy of heaven. They are not outlaws. There must be some reason why they will indulge in these outrages or permit others to do them without molestation.

Now to the suggestion: The use of the military has not only failed to accomplish an observance of the law, but has actually intensified the bitter feeling. Men who have been indicted for crime have been acquitted by a jury of the peers of the vicinity. There is something wrong, and Governor Willson can apply the remedy if he only will.

Many people of Kentucky have no confidence in his sincerity. It is almost openly charged that he is an attorney for the tobacco trust and a great many people believe it. A Madisonville paper of last week makes the statement that it is believed in that section that the soldiers were sent to Dawson on the request of the gigantic St. Bernard coal corporation to intimidate and overawe the miners to prevent them from striking.

If Gov. Willson would ever settle this matter, he must gain the confidence of these people. He should withdraw the troops and say to the local authorities that he will leave the enforcement of the law to them. He should direct the Attorney General to take steps to discover if the American Tobacco Company is a combination in restraint of trade, and therefore punishable under our anti-trust laws. He should keep the military in strict subordination to the civil authorities. He should show to these people that he believes in the rights of the individual and that he is one of them and not a creature of their supposed oppressors. He had a splendid chance to do that at first. He may do it yet.

For his information, it may be well to tell him that he has been imposed on by some people in western Kentucky for their own selfish ends. Night-rider outrages that are baseless as the stories of the famous Eliza Pinkston have been told him, and he has acted on the information. If he has anybody in his employ in whom he can place any trust, let him send such a person down for a personal investigation.

This advice, as we said in the outset, is gratis. He may take it or let it alone. The night-rider situation is bothering him more than it is the writer.

The above editorial from the Bowling Green Messenger, smacks of the trenchant pen of Hon. Ed O. Leigh, who is fully informed as to the situation in the Dark Belt and he has the courage to express it.

We need less buncombe and more business, less talk and more action if the present status is ever changed for better. Right thinking people should get together and strive to get an understanding of the true status of affairs. A gradual withdrawal of the troops, and a call on the patriotic Kentuckian to help uphold the supremacy of the law will not fall on deaf ears, and those guilty of the crime of night riding will be punished.

EQUITY SOCIETY TO VISIT LOUISVILLE

From 25,000 to 50,000 Members Are Expected at Meeting There During The State Fair.

The army of the Equity Society will invade Louisville on Friday of State Fair week in September, says the Louisville Post. The society will come to Louisville anywhere from 25,000 to 50,000 strong and before assembling at the fair grounds will form mammoth parade marching through the streets of Louisville. This parade promises to be the greatest and the most memorable in the history of Louisville. Practically every tobacco grower from the burley to the dark belt region will attend, their members being limited only to capacity of the trains bearing them. The decision to attend the State Fair in a mammoth tobacco body was reached at Winchester after speeches had been made to the tobacco men by J. W. Newman, secretary of State Fair; Sam P. Jones, president of the Commercial Bank and Trust Company, and several prominent tobacco leaders.

REASONS GIVEN BY CONDON FOR NOT BUYING POOLED CROP.

Guthrie, Ky., Aug. 8.—In a letter addressed to the Tobacco Planter and published in that newspaper, Martin J. Condon of New York, president of the American Snuff Company, denies that his company has taken any steps toward attacking the Planters' Protective Association by refraining from buying tobacco pooled with the organization.

The denial from Mr. Condon came as the result of a statement appearing recently in the Tobacco Planter that officials of the association at Guthrie were generally of the opinion that the present slump in sales of dark tobacco was due to a preconcerted effort on the part of the buyers to break down the organization. On this point Mr. Condon says:

We are buying now, and have always bought tobacco absolutely independently and with no connection, understanding, co-operation or agreement between us and any other buyer of tobacco. The reduction in our purchases at the present time is not part of any plan to do anything to embarrass the dark tobacco planters' organization, but it is simply and only due to the fact that we have already on hand a larger surplus of tobacco suitable for our needs than we usually have, and as large a surplus as our business warrants us in carrying. This condition naturally diminishes our purchases for the time being and our action in this respect has been without any agreement, understanding, co-operation or consultation with any other buyer of tobacco whatsoever.

WILL FIX PRICE OF 1907 CROP.

Winchester, Ky., Aug. 11.—The Burley Tobacco Society will hold an important meeting here this afternoon. The principal subjects for discussion will be that pertaining to placing the crop of 1907 on the market. It is being rapidly packed and will soon be ready for market. It is estimated the crop will amount of 75,000 hogheads, and is of a much higher grade than that of the previous year. Some members wish to put a much higher price, claiming that the law of supply and demand justifies so doing.

On the other hand, it is asserted that the Burley Tobacco Society was not organized to take advantage of a situation to expect higher prices but merely to secure for the grower a fair price for his crop. It will probably be graded along the lines of the previous year, but of being better quality will make the average price greater.

Another thing to be considered at this meeting is whether or not those who have raised a crop in 1908 over the protests of the society shall be allowed to pool their crop or not.

It is said that many of the growers desire to enter the pool. It is also probable that some steps will be taken relative to the future course of the society. The fall of the year is nearly at hand when farmers make contracts for the following year, and it is desirable to know what to do. Other questions relative to the financing of the crop will also be discussed.

Madisonville, Hopkins county, Ky., Aug. 1.—Petitions for amendments to constitution and by-laws of the Stemming District article 3, sec. 5, now reads thus: Neither initiation fee or dues shall be charged the members of this Association. We petition this amendment to read thus that a fee be charged to help to defray the expenses, and each county to receive and control its own funds. And article 5, sec. 1, now reads thus: The District Board shall exercise a general supervision over all the affairs of the Association, shall make all contracts for the handling and sale of all tobacco, shall receive and disburse the proceeds of all sales, shall have power to employ such agents in the Association, as they may deem advisable. Petition for amendment of the above article to read thus: Except graders each county Board to have power to select graders for their respective counties, all graders to receive uniform price to be fixed by the District Board.

Petitions offered by C. M. Wiley, J. E. Hartford and H. O. Baughn and adopted by the Hopkins county Board and sent to District Board for consideration and publication. J. C. CARVER, sec'y of Hopkins Co Board.

NATURE AND A WOMAN'S WORK

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

Nature and a woman's work combined have produced the grandest remedy for woman's ills that the world has ever known.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers they relied upon the roots and herbs of the field to cure disease and mitigate suffering.

The Indians on our Western Plains to-day can produce roots and herbs for every ailment, and cure diseases that baffle the most skilled physicians who have spent years in the study of drugs.

From the roots and herbs of the field Lydia E. Pinkham more than thirty years ago gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills, more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

Mrs. Bertha Muff, of 515 N.C. St., Louisiana, Mo., writes:

"Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my troubles public."

"For twelve years I had been suffering with the worst forms of female ills. During that time I had eleven different physicians without help. No tongue can tell what I suffered, and at times I could hardly walk. About two years ago I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice. I followed it, and can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice restored health and strength. It is worth mountains of gold to suffering women."

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Muff, it will do for other suffering women.

place in the company he plays with.

The patrons of the school, as well as her friends, will regret to learn that, on account of her health, Miss Carolyn Harris will not take her place in the school this fall. Miss Carolyn has been teacher in the 3rd grade for past two years, and has had splendid success, and given entire satisfaction in her work. She is a teacher of untiring energy, and thoroughly conscientious in her duty to the children, wish her a speedy recovery of health, and trust that, after the year's rest she will be able to resume her position.

These Bad Pains

which give you such exquisite suffering, every month, are caused, as you know, by female trouble. Relief seldom or never comes of itself. It is necessary to cure the cause, in order to stop the pains, and this can only be done if you will take a specific, female remedy, that acts directly on the woman's organs.

WINE OF CARDUI

WOMAN'S RELIEF

"Cardui did wonders for me," writes Mrs. H. C. Larson, of Olathe, Mo. "I had female trouble for 8 years. I had displacement, which increased my suffering, the doctor could only relieve me at times. Now, I am so much better, I hardly know when my time begins or when it ends."

A Mild Laxative For Baby's Bowels

Doctor Points Out Dangers of Pills and Cathartics

"Salts, purgatives, and violent cathartics are dangerous when given babies, children or delicate women," says a well known doctor. "Neither should they be given medicines containing narcotics for stomach or bowel troubles."

It would be well for mothers to heed this warning and keep on hand a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for baby and herself and for any member of the family that has need of a laxative or a stomach remedy. It is safe and pleasant to take and has cured old people of chronic constipation and dyspepsia of many years' standing, and yet is harmless for a baby as many a happy mother can testify. It brings natural daily movements, sweetens the stomach, aids digestion and stimulates the torpid liver to proper action. The children like it. "Lafe Wrentham, the popular hotel man in Indianapolis, says: "The children like it, we all use it and would not be without it in the house." Mrs. Mattie Crouch, Tiptonville, Tenn., cured her 6 months' old baby of indigestion with it. Mrs. Almon Willis, Jamaica, Vt., says it saved her baby's life. Mrs. A. B. Cunningham, Fresno, Calif., says she can't keep house without it. It cured her little son of rheumatism and stomach trouble.

Mrs. Flora Helwig, Bow Creek, Kan., says: "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin cured my little girl of constipation. I cannot recommend your splendid remedy too highly for children." Mrs. Mary E. Young, Burlington, Ia., writes: "I cheerfully recommend it to mothers as the best laxative for children." Mrs. Anne Miller, Canal Dover, Ohio, has used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and splendid results as a laxative for children.

All druggists sell it at 40c and $1.00 per bottle. Pepsin Syrup Co., 301 Caldwell Bldg., Marion, Ill. Send for a free sample to any one who has never used it and will give it a fair trial.

CHARLES W. BRYAN

Obituary.

Mattie Florence Wheeler, a precious lovely gift from the loving Heavenly Father to Reuben and Clara Wheeler, Jan. 1st, 1907. Just a little while they were permitted to keep this jewel here. Their friend asked that it be returned July 23rd, sad hearts they say, thy will be done. It was a brief life, but how sweet and lovely, its beauty and fragrance shall linger many a day to cheer and brighten our weary way. Let us not weep then, but pray for the needed grace whereby we may be "meet for the Masters' use" while we linger here. Surely we have no time to weep where sunshine and smiles help so much. To have a loving remembrance of our dear dead and honor God by helping the living is our true work after death its sad work.

Why weep, loving parents, when there is promise the dead in Christ shall rise again? Let the children come, for of such is the kingdom of Heaven. It is time that for a little while there will be a vacant place in our home here, but let us remember there is a vacant place "over there" waiting for us in the Mansion prepared for God's children. The sweet voice some happy day shall be heard again.

I wonder, Oh, I wonder where the little faces go, That come and smile and stay awhile, And pass like flakes of snow. The dear, wee baby faces that the world has never known. But Mothers' hide, so tender eyed, Deep in their hearts alone.

I love to think that somewhere in the country we call Heaven, The land most fair of everywhere, Will unto them be given.

A land of little faces, very little very fair, And every one shall know her own, And cleave to it, there

Oh! grant it loving Father, To the broken hearted that plead,

Thy way is best yet oh to rest. In perfect To know that we shall find them over there, Even them the wee white dead, At thy right hand in thy bright land, By the living waters led.

COMMONER COMMENTS

WARNING TO DEMOCRATS

MONOPOLISTIC INFLUENCES SEEK CONTROL OF CONVENTION.

Watchfulness Needed to Prevent Duplication of Underhand Work of Four Years Ago—Nebraska and Taft Platforms Compared.

[From the Commoner.]
Just after the election of 1904 a man who was prominent among the advocates of Mr. Parker's nomination at St. Louis remarked that a great many people who were advocating Mr. Parker's nomination showed very little interest in the campaign after the nomination. It is true. There are certain financial interests which are always active before the convention; they want to dominate both parties and nominate both candidates. After the convention adjourns, they pick out their candidate and proceed to help elect him, ignoring entirely the other candidate, even if they helped to force him upon the convention. That is just the situation at this time. There are certain monopolistic influences that are demanding that the Democrats nominate a man friendly to predatory wealth. These men have their representatives in the various states, and they are working underhand. When they talk to a man they say: "Of course, we cannot prevent instructions, but we can get the right kind of men on the delegation, and then watch our opportunity." These men are speaking in whispers; they are working underground. If they can control the Democratic convention and nominate some one in whom the predatory interests have confidence, they will then feel sure that the Democratic party has no chance, and proceed to help the Republican candidate.

Can they fool the voters? Not this time. The experience of four years ago has not been forgotten and with that experience fresh in memory the Democrats will put none but the trust-worthy on guard. If the Democratic voter wants to understand the real purpose of the trust papers, let him compare the editorials of Judge Parker which appeared before the convention with the denunciations of him that followed. These papers that told how a splendid man he was and how strong the party would be under his leadership turned against him as soon as the campaign opened. The New York World, one of his loudest champions, received money from the Republican campaign committee for an advertisement (unless the World published it gratuitously) for space for a scurrilous cartoon the Sunday before election.

The interest of predatory wealth in the Democratic party is only temporary. It is manifested just before the convention, because it would cost less to defeat the Democratic party in the convention than to defeat it at the polls, and the defeat of the Democratic party is the only thing which it desires.

Who is Copying?
The Washington Post may not regard it as a serious mistake, but in a recent editorial it says that the Nebraska platform repeats many of the paragraphs of the Taft platform adopted at Columbus—not word for word, of course, but meaning for meaning, and then it proceeds to specify. It quotes the Republican platform as favoring "protection of illegal trusts, monopolists and all evil doers, both in the public service and in the commercial world, together with the enforcement of all wholesome measures which have made safer the guarantee of life, liberty and property." The Nebraska platform is quoted by the Post as follows: "We favor the vigorous enforcement of the criminal law against trusts and trust magnates, and demand the enactment of such additional legislation as may be necessary to make it impossible for a private monopoly to exist in the United States." This, the Post alleges, "is twofold and twofold drawn to a fine point."

In the first place, the language quoted from the Democratic platform of March 5 was copied verbatim from the Nebraska Democratic platform of last September, so that if anybody "copied," the Taft managers have copied the Democratic platform.

Will the Post make the correction and admit that the Nebraska Democrats were in the lead first, or will it allow the mistake to stand?
But, as a matter of fact, the two paragraphs are not at all alike. The Republican platform asks for the prosecution of illegal trusts and monopolies. It does not ask for the enforcement of the "criminal law against trusts and magnates," neither does the Republican platform demand "the enactment of such additional legislation as may be necessary to make it impossible for a private monopoly to exist in the United States." There is no suggestion in the Republican platform, quoted by the Post, of additional legislation, while the Nebraska platform demands additional legislation. It not only demands additional legislation, but it specifies certain legislation which is demanded, as follows: "Among the additional remedies we specify three: First, a law preventing the duplication of directors among competing corporations; second, a license system which will, without abridging the right of each state to create corporations, or the right to regulate as it will foreign corporations doing business within its limits, make it necessary for a manufacturing or trading corporation engaged in interstate commerce to take out a federal license before it shall be permitted to control as much as 25 per cent. of the product in which it deals, the license to protect the public from watered stock and to prohibit the control by such corporation of more than 50 per cent. of the total amount of any product consumed in the United States; and, third, a law compelling such licensed corporations to sell to all purchasers in all parts of the country on the same terms, making due allowance for cost of transportation.

The Commoner is sending a copy of the Nebraska platform to the editor of the Post, and asks the Post to compare it with the Ohio platform. It will be seen at a glance that while the Democratic platform is clear, emphatic and specific on each point, the Republican platform is general, ambiguous and evasive. No matter what subject is dealt with, the Nebraska platform stands for something that can be understood, while the Republican platform stands for something or nothing, according to the construction placed upon it, and anyone can place upon it the construction he likes.

Platonic Defenders.
Leslie's Weekly is one of the papers that habitually goes to the other end of the pole. It recently published an article entitled "Clean Hands Stood at the Crucifixion," and the article has been published in the Official Time Tables (No. 879) of the Pennsylvania railroad (which work into effect in February).

Leslie's Weekly condemns the Sherman anti-trust law and declares it a failure; it finds fault with the passage of that law and claims that it was enacted under pressure of "yellow clamor." It complains of the "denunciation of the wealthy" and declares that the railroads "want to be sure that for some simple and perhaps innocent infraction of a complicated law they can not be mulcted for millions." It attacks the courts and the judge who imposed the $25,000,000 fine for "a technical violation of the law." It calls these and other decisions "outrages" and says they were "formed by a socialistic public sentiment and carried out in the name of law, etc., etc."

Was the editorial written for the Pennsylvania railroad or did the Pennsylvania railroad just happen to stumble on to the editorial? Who owns Leslie's Weekly? Is it not worth while for the reader to find out who stands behind these magazines that assault the government, the congress and the legislature? Whose knife is it that is stabbing out of the dark? What conscience, what character, what reputation stands back of the editorial in Leslie's Weekly? If we knew the controlling force we could better weigh the words, and the above is only a sample of what is now going on in this country.

The press that ought to be the avenue through which information reaches the public has in many cases become the vehicle for the spread of misinformation and for veiled attacks upon those who would enact legislation just to the masses.

Censorship of the Press.
The Democrats of the senate and house will do well to watch the bill introduced by Senator Penrose on the 9th of December. It amends section 3,898 of the revised statutes and purports to be a measure for the enforcement of the law against obscene literature, but a reading of the bill arouses the suspicion that it has another purpose. The amendment is so broad that it is a question if it does not establish a censorship of the press and vest in the postoffice department the right to arbitrarily exclude papers from the second class mailing privileges.

The bill should be so amended as to make it impossible for the postoffice department to exercise a censorship over political papers. We can not afford to subject political arguments to censorship.

The dangers involved in such a law far outweigh any good that could come from it. Freedom of press is essential to free government, and in excluding obscene matter care must be taken not to lodge in the postoffice department a discretion which will cover other matters.

Under the Guarantee System.
A reader of the Commoner sends in an item in regard to an Iowa bank which failed. The amount on deposit was about $200,000, of which $7,000 belonged to the county. The county had security and as soon as the failure was known the county compelled the bondsmen to make good the deficit, but the individual depositors, not having any protection, lost a considerable part of their deposits.

Under the guarantee system all of the depositors would have been paid in full and the community would not have suffered from embarrassment.

"The Best and Only Policy."
George Harvey, editor of Harper's Weekly, reputed to be owned by John Pierpont Morgan, made an interesting answer to the New York World's query: "What is the best principle and what the best policy to give the Democratic party new life?" Here is Mr. Harvey's answer:

"To the Editor of the World: The best principle: The constitution. The next best: Tariff for revenue only. The best and only policy: Beat Bryan."
"GEORGE HARVEY."
"New York, March 10."

The ulterior motive sought to be concealed in the Aldrich bill sticks out like a boy's sore thumb in baseball time.

THOUGHTS ON BUSINESS

BY WALDO PONDRAV WARREN

CONTINUOUS GROWTH NECESSARY

ARE you growing as fast as your business is growing? That is a question every man might well ask himself. Unless there is a continual growth in the individual there is a widening of the distance between him and the higher positions to which he aspires. The requirements of nearly all high positions are increasing. It takes a bigger man to be foreman to-day than it did a few years ago.

These are days of remarkable growth in almost every line of business. It is not uncommon to hear of concerns that have "doubled last year's business"—and that in the face of the fact that "last year doubled the year before." An increase of 20 to 50 per cent a year is by no means uncommon. Statistics for the last few years show a steady and substantial increase in almost every line of business.

Are you growing as fast as your business is growing? This question comes home with especial significance to men who have executive work of any kind. The foreman who handled ten men two years ago, and twenty men last year, is this year perhaps required to handle forty men. He must be able to do it if he is to keep up with his position. The business demands the forty men—if he can't handle them another must. The call everywhere is for men who can keep up with the rapid pace of present day business activity.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.
It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.
For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

FATHER AND MOTHER.

The school children of Oak Park, a suburb of Chicago, were recently asked to vote, the issue being, "Who is the best and greatest person who ever lived?"

A partial statement of the result is given as follows: Lincoln, 14; Washington, 11; McKinley, 6; Roosevelt, 4; King Arthur, 3; Joan of Arc, 3; "My Father," 3; "My Mother," 3; King Solomon, 1.

Here is an interesting revelation of the child mind.

The first thing that strikes one is the overwhelming patriotic trend of the children. Another thing is the entire absence of the commercial spirit. There is no millionaire or captain of industry on the list.

It may be stated that those children who voted for their fathers and mothers voted their real sentiments. The other votes are the reflection of adult opinion.

"My father."
Blessings on the head of the children who cast that ballot! The normal child is the one who thinks its father the greatest and best man. If the child thinks otherwise there is something the matter with it or with the father. The father has every advantage in that from the first the child looks up to him. He only needs to be a firm but gracious sovereign to be always the king. There are those of us who have gray threads in our hair who yet believe that "father" is the grandest and noblest man we have ever known.

"My mother."
Those votes came naturally. They voiced a real conviction. On second thought every child would have written "mother" on his ticket. You will sometimes find a person who does not love his father. Rare are those, children or adults, who do not revere the mother. Lord Byron's are scarce. Mother is a queen who rules by divine right. Her scepter is compelling love. At the mention of her sacred name the bolts to every heart are unbarred. Her name devils are cast out. She lurks to heaven and points the way.

Father and mother—king and queen of the kingdom of love.
Oh, hearts grow sore and weary with the buffets of the world, ye have bent the knee to many a false lord and lady—false sovereigns—in your time, but the mild and gentle reign of "father" and "mother" is from ever lasting unto everlasting.

August time tells on the nerves.

that spirit less, no ambition feeling can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known by druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Within 48 hours after beginning to use the Restorative, improvement will be noticed. Of course, full health will not immediately return. The gain, however, will surely follow. And best of all, you will realize and feel your strength and ambition as it is returning. Outside influences depress first the "inside nerves" then the Stomach, Heart, and Kidneys will usually fail. Strengthen these failing nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly health will be yours again. Sold by Jas. H. Orme.

SPORTING COLUMNS.

On last Wednesday, Aug. 12, 1908, there appeared on our diamond a collection of imperunated ball players and budding youths, imbued with the idea that they could play ball. Just where they received this impression it is hard to say. We are confident that no true Kentuckian so perjured himself as to make the statement. We are equally confident that they have met no team so inferior that their work seemed good in comparison. So the problem remains unsolved. How did the Kuttawa team get the idea that they could play ball? Like the time honored question, "How old is Ann?" this mystery of mysteries will probably down through the ages, its true answer never discovered.

For nine long weary innings the Marion nine ran and jumped and crawled and hopped around the bases, stopping occasionally to yell with glee when some ambitious brother landed on that wee-begone pitcher for a three-bagger or a home run. Capt. Guess went back to the days of his childhood and in joyous recollection of those scenes, after one of his numerous singles he selected a nice cool spot between first and second and played in the dust as he had done in days of yore. When the pitcher rudely interrupted his childish delight, by throwing the ball to first, he proceeded to second. Clark annoyed by the many attempts of the opposing side to lower his batting average, made a clean two-bagger, the first of his career. Lamb made believe it was Princeton that faced him and made his fourth three base hit of the season. Every man on the team had some special stunt to pull off and their antics kept the big crowd amused. In the course of time, it was discovered that Marion had run up 25 scores, which fact so agitated the scorer that he forgot to register a single run for the visitors. In the meantime Kuttawa was busy, almost as busy as Marion, accumulating a row of goose eggs that would do credit to the most industrious goose in Crittenden County. After they had punished the innocent atmosphere for four innings in vain endeavors to hit the weird offerings of Gossage, "Bunk" Perryman was brought in from centerfield to amuse himself while on the slab. For five innings "Bunk" held forth and not a single, puny hit did they secure. John Grimes and Gray Rochester begged for a chance to show their twirling ability, but Capt. Guess turned a cold deaf ear to their pleadings and Perryman finished the game.

The tale that the score board tells:
 R. H. E.
 Marion 25 21 5
 Kuttawa 0 1 18
 Batteries, Gossage, Perryman and

Grimes, Holland, Smith and Brown. Two-base hit: Guess, Clark. Three-base hit: Lamb. Struck out by Gossage: 4, by Perryman: 3, by Holland 2, by Smith 1. Double play, Rochester to Morrison to Lamb. Hit by pitcher, Lamb, Grimes, Parson and Clark.

After the delightful proceedings of Wednesday, the team buckled down to hard work on Friday, for Princeton, at one time champion of Western Kentucky was in town, and the third game of the series, the game that decided the championship was to be played. But we missed a number of things that usually accompany a Princeton game, and a number of familiar faces that usually accompany the Princeton team. We missed with genuine sorrow, the old reliables "Harvey Moore and Mark Goldnamer; we missed Guy Stevens and George Petit, and we were sorry that quarrels and feuds most sometimes arise, but we remembered that "such is life in a small town" and passed on to the ball park where we met even greater surprises. For, lo, Fredonia and her blonde but gallant leader, Will Wyatt were absent. And we wondered if they, too, had seen the handwriting on the wall, realizing full well that it was not Daniel, but Paul, who made its meaning clear to them.

After the usual preliminary practice umpire Lamb called "play ball" at 3:40. Marion made three runs in the first inning. Lamb first up, went out, pitcher to first. Grimes bunted and beat it out. Morrison made a clean two bagger, on which Grimes scored. Guess sent a high fly to left, which was gobbled by T. Mitchell. Mitchell, of Marion, hit one much too hot for Moran, shortstop and Morrison crossed the plate. Mitchell stoid second, great slide. Parsons was hit. Rochester singled sending Mitchell to third. Clark singled and Mitchell came home. Gossage ended the agony with a liner to Greer. After Guess had gone out on some swift work by Moran, Mitchell singled and went to second on T. Mitchell's error on a balk by the pitcher he came to third, and came home when Myers let Rochester's hot grounder go by.

Little can be said of Princeton's batting in the first three innings as all nine men struck out. In the fourth Myers got a base on balls, but Rochester caught Cunningham's weak pop up and Gossage struck out the next two. Marion scored again in the fourth. Gossage drew a pass, went to second on a passed ball, was sent to third by Grimes' sacrifice and came home when the right fielder dropped Morrison's line drive. In their half of the 8th Princeton began to make things look dangerous. After Greer had struck out, G Rice made a two bagger, scored on Moran's single, who went to second on the throw in, and scored when Cunningham singled to right. Cunningham went out, trying to steal second, and T. Mitchell fanned. The game was getting interesting with a rush and realizing that the crippled team from our sister city could still play ball, the boys determined to get a few more runs, but not a man reached first in the fifth. In the sixth Myers knocked a hard liner to Clark, who made a brilliant catch. Cunningham took two bases on his drive to center. H. Rice singled sending Cunningham to third. Stevens struck out, and with two down and Greer at the bat, the fans breathed easier. But Greer, the same Greer that had faced Gossage eight times, and struck out eight times, surprised Gossage, the crowd and himself by getting a three base hit. That it was accidental none will deny, but it brought in two runs and gave the team another score. But, in the sixth Gossage singled, and with Lamb at the bat a run was assured. After fouling several he picked out a good one and went to second while Gossage came home. After the sixth Princeton could do no more with the the stick, but in the seventh Marion made two more, thus clinching a victory.

The future was easily Gossage's pitching, by extreme good luck the visitor's hits were bunched in two innings. Had they been scattered, as were Marion's, they could never have scored. Marion played the first errorless game put up on the grounds this season.

Strawberries In August In Christian County.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Aug. 12.—Strawberries in August. That is the unusual delicacy which Hopkinsville people are enjoying now, or at least the part of them who are lucky enough to secure any of the rather limited supply. One raiser of berries yesterday brought to market nine gallon of delicious berries which he retailed at 60 cents per gallon. This was the second crop which has been produced by the vines this season. The berries are not so large as the first ones, but are fine flavor and very sweet.
